

Clubracer.com.au Launches Into 2008 With an All New Website

It has been 2 years in the making, but clubracer.com.au is back bigger and better than ever. With a complete redesign and a new and easier to use navigation, clubracer.com.au is THE place to go for all your motorsport news and classifieds.

New to the site in 2008 is a Forum, dedicated to club level motorsport, where you can discuss anything and everything related to motorsport. Whether you're in karts, open wheelers or tin tops, or if you're interested in getting started in any class, this is where you can come and ask a question! Someone will answer it!

The site is updated daily with news and press releases from all over Australia, the aim being to help promote the smaller teams, their sponsors and drivers. Added to this are free classifieds, so if you have that race car, transporter or driving suit lying around doing nothing, advertise it for sale on clubracer.com.au. It will cost you nothing and the advert will disappear after 3 months so you don't have to worry about being contacted after you've sold it!

We are currently having technical articles written by experts in their fields, so that those of you who take a more hands on approach to racing, can read up on things like data logging, race car set up, engine tuning, aerodynamics and much much more. It's all good advice and help, and it'll cost you nothing!

Lastly we offer advertising through banners and featured articles, of which our rates are very competitive. Our banners are one of 5 that can be displayed on each and every page of the website (excluding the forums at this stage) so at any one time your advert will be at a minimum on 20% of the site, which guarantees your advert is getting seen and helping promote your business. Got an event coming up that a simple banner advert can't convey? Our 'Featured Event' is for you. See it on the home page and your own dedicated event page.
